

HSBC (HSBA.L/0005.HK): Key takeaways from Investor Event

HSBC is hosting its Asia Seminar on 20 May, having started before HK market open, outlining a strategic roadmap to evolve into a “growing, high-returning” institution. The presentations so far have centered on three core strategic priorities: becoming simple and agile, driving customer-centricity, and delivering focused, sustainable growth. HSBC (0005 HK) opened ~1.0% lower today; however, the share price movement appears largely beta-driven, reflecting broader market reaction to the latest Middle East developments, with the UST 30-year yield reaching its highest level since 2007 (Hang Seng Index (HSI) opened ~-0.34%, while our HK bank coverage opened ~-1.1% on average). Overall, investor feedback has been neutral, with limited expectations for further upgrades to guidance, particularly for 2026E following the recent revision in early May, while medium-term guidance (set in Feb) remains unchanged. We continue to like HSBC as a global liquidity engine, offering a near-unique combination of: (i) a scaled deposit franchise, (ii) consistent and structural growth, and (iii) a liquidity-focused balance sheet (see here).

To us, key takeaways included:

- 1. Asia remains a growth engine: HSBC is well positioned as a “connector” between China and global markets, with Hong Kong serving as a key launch pad for mainland clients looking to internationalise. Asia contributed to 51%/52%/65% of HSBC’s deposit/revenue/PBT. Growth in CIB is increasingly driven by Asia’s expanding buy-side activity, reflecting stronger trade and investment flows, with HSBC maintaining a leading position in transaction banking. Around 85% of CIB clients are multi-jurisdictional, with roughly half of revenues generated outside their home markets, underscoring the strength of HSBC’s international network. China remains a core growth engine as a net capital exporter, with outbound wealth and direct investment flows providing a structural tailwind that HSBC is well positioned to capture. The franchise is supported by deep client penetration, including banking ~79% of Global Fortune 500 companies in HK and ~80% of MSCI China Tech 100 in China, while India is emerging as the largest CIB contributor outside home markets. According to management this breadth enables strong cross-sell and referral opportunities across businesses, reinforcing HSBC’s positioning as the leading international bank in Asia.
- 2. Wealth Management Leadership: HSBC has solidified its position as the leading wealth manager in Asia, with regional wealth balances of $1,055bn ($1,563bn Goldman Sachs does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. globally) as of FY25. Wealth is already a core earnings driver (c.25% of group revenue, of which wealth deposits are a key contributor), supported by a diversified platform with eight global booking centres. The bank has been effective in moving clients up the wealth pyramid, though Premier penetration of ~50% and overall penetration of ~25% highlight significant headroom. New to bank customers for RBW are increasingly non-residents from ~40% in FY23 to ~80% in FY25. Productivity initiatives are also gaining traction, with wealth sales per RM up ~70% since FY23 (to FY25), driven by process simplification and digital investments, supporting improved client conversion and RM retention. Furthermore, HSBC continues to strengthen its client acquisition funnel (e.g. mainland-to-HK onboarding and integrated cross-border account capabilities), reinforcing its ability to offshore wealth needs for Chinese. There remains clear scope to further scale and extend these capabilities into HSB to drive incremental growth.

3. Hang Seng Bank (HSB): HSBC maintained $0.9bn in revenue and cost benefits from HSB's privatization. Hang Seng continues to deliver high wealth penetration (68% in FY25, best-in-class within the group) with an execution-focused strategy to gain market share. HSB remains the leading SME bank in HK (serving 1 in 4 SMEs), with China-linked SMEs rising from ~30% of new clients last year to ~50% currently, generating roughly twice the revenue versus non-China-linked clients. Growth is increasingly driven by mainland customers, with >50% of Prestige customer growth coming from China. Wealth sales per RM have doubled over the past five years. HSBC is also further integrating its global capabilities with HSB, with enhancements such as remote account opening for mainland customers launched this month and full onboarding (account opening + activation in HK) expected later this year. Lastly, HK CRE exposure for HSB has declined from 20% to 16% (2023–2025), and management guided that FY26 CoC for HSB should improve.
4. Operational simplification and efficiency: HSBC has been on track to execute its plan to be “simple and agile”, having streamlined its leadership scale, with Group OpCo reduced from 18 to 12 members, with ~60% of revenue now under a single line of accountability and a ~15% net reduction in MDs. The $1.5bn simplification savings have largely been actioned ($0.1bn remaining), and HSBC will provide an update on the closing of this program by half year, including the full annualised savings and impact in terms of employee reduction. Further to this, the $1.5bn cost reallocation from non-strategic businesses is expected to largely be delivered by the end of the year ($0.8bn completed or announced, with $0.5bn in active execution, though note there is a lag of ~12 months before the savings are reflected in the P&L), and management guided that the reallocation will be directed towards areas with higher revenue and returns. Lastly, streamlining processes through AI has helped deliver improvements in KYC productivity of 55%, a 50% reduction in client onboarding, and 70% fewer false positives for financial crime.
5. Robust balance sheet: HSBC's balance sheet strength is underpinned by a high-quality deposit franchise, with $1.8trn of deposits, of which $1.2trn are instant access. Instant access deposits equate to ~124% of loan books (vs. peers below 100%), highlighting a structurally strong funding profile. This reduces reliance on market funding, providing flexibility to sustain strong ROTE with a relatively lower balance sheet intensity.

3 year targets (2026-28) was kept unchanged. We are Buy rated on both HSBA.L (on CL) and 0005.HK.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - HSBC Holdings (HSBA.L)

Our 12-month price target of GBp1,700 is based on a P/E methodology, using a 12.0x target multiple applied 75%/25% to our 2027/28E EPS forecasts, vs an average target multiple of c.10.5x for our European Banks coverage, reflecting in part various structural advantages held by HSBC, including its deposit-centric growth (capital-light income, with associated hedge benefits), across a range of supportive regions/products, alongside meaningful opportunities for non-NII growth via the Wealth segment. Downside risks include: 1) Weaker-than-expected Banking NII, including faster-than-expected Fed rate cuts, or a widening gap between HIBOR and Fed rate; 2) Slower-than-expected non-NII growth, including a potential slowdown in global trade or increased competition from peers; 3) Reversal/pause of positive operating efficiency trajectory if simplification efforts are impacted adversely.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - HSBC Holdings (0005.HK)

Our 12-month price target of HK$165 is based on a two-stage DDM. Downside risks include: 1) Weaker-than-expected Banking NII, including faster-than-expected Fed rate cuts, or a widening gap between HIBOR and Fed rates; 2) Slower-than-expected non-NII growth, including a potential slow down in global trade or increased competition from peers; 3) Reversal/pause of positive operating efficiency trajectory if simplification efforts are impacted adversely.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.

General disclosures

This research is for our clients only. Other than disclosures relating to Goldman Sachs, this research is based on current public information that we consider reliable, but we do not represent it is accurate or complete, and it should not be relied on as such. The information, opinions, estimates and forecasts contained herein are as of the date hereof and are subject to change without prior notification. We seek to update our research as appropriate, but various regulations may prevent us from doing so. Other than certain industry reports published on a periodic basis, the large majority of reports are published at irregular intervals as appropriate in the analyst's judgment.

Goldman Sachs conducts a global full-service, integrated investment banking, investment management, and brokerage business. We have investment banking and other business relationships with a substantial percentage of the companies covered by Global Investment Research. Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC, the United States broker dealer, is a member of SIPC (<https://www.sipc.org>).

Our salespeople, traders, and other professionals may provide oral or written market commentary or trading strategies to our clients and principal trading desks that reflect opinions that are contrary to the opinions expressed in this research. Our asset management area, principal trading desks and investing businesses may make investment decisions that are inconsistent with the recommendations or views expressed in this research.

The analysts named in this report may have from time to time discussed with our clients, including Goldman Sachs salespersons and traders, or may discuss in this report, trading strategies that reference catalysts or events that may have a near-term impact on the market price of the equity securities discussed in this report, which impact may be directionally counter to the analyst's published price target expectations for such stocks. Any such trading strategies are distinct from and do not affect the analyst's fundamental equity rating for such stocks, which rating reflects a stock's return potential relative to its coverage universe as described herein.

We and our affiliates, officers, directors, and employees will from time to time have long or short positions in, act as principal in, and buy or sell, the securities or derivatives, if any, referred to in this research, unless otherwise prohibited by regulation or Goldman Sachs policy.

The views attributed to third party presenters at Goldman Sachs arranged conferences, including individuals from other parts of Goldman Sachs, do not necessarily reflect those of Global Investment Research and are not an official view of Goldman Sachs.

Any third party referenced herein, including any salespeople, traders and other professionals or members of their household, may have positions in the products mentioned that are inconsistent with the views expressed by analysts named in this report.

This research is not an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any security in any jurisdiction where such an offer or solicitation would be illegal. It does not constitute a personal recommendation or take into account the particular investment objectives, financial situations, or needs of individual clients. Clients should consider whether any advice or recommendation in this research is suitable for their particular circumstances and, if appropriate, seek professional advice, including tax advice. The price and value of investments referred to in this research and the income from them may fluctuate. Past performance is not a guide to future performance, future returns are not guaranteed, and a loss of original capital may occur. Fluctuations in exchange rates could have adverse effects on the value or price of, or income derived from, certain investments.

Certain transactions, including those involving futures, options, and other derivatives, give rise to substantial risk and are not suitable for all investors. Investors should review current options and futures disclosure documents which are available from Goldman Sachs sales representatives or at <https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp> and https://www.goldmansachs.com/disclosures/cftc_fcm_disclosures. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchase and sales of options such as spreads. Supporting documentation will be supplied upon request.

Differing Levels of Service provided by Global Investment Research: The level and types of services provided to you by Goldman Sachs Global Investment Research may vary as compared to that provided to internal and other external clients of GS, depending on various factors including your individual preferences as to the frequency and manner of receiving communication, your risk profile and investment focus and perspective (e.g., marketwide, sector specific, long term, short term), the size and scope of your overall client relationship with GS, and legal and regulatory constraints. As an example, certain clients may request to receive notifications when research on specific securities is published, and certain clients may request that specific data underlying analysts' fundamental analysis available on our internal client websites be delivered to them electronically through data feeds or otherwise. No change to an analyst's fundamental research views (e.g., ratings, price targets, or material changes to earnings estimates for equity securities), will be communicated to any client prior to inclusion of such information in a research report broadly disseminated through electronic publication to our internal client websites or through other means, as necessary, to all clients who are entitled to receive such reports.

All research reports are disseminated and available to all clients simultaneously through electronic publication to our internal client websites. Not all research content is redistributed to our clients or available to third-party aggregators, nor is Goldman Sachs responsible for the redistribution of our research by third party aggregators. For research, models or other data related to one or more securities, markets or asset classes (including related services) that may be available to you, please contact your GS representative or go to <https://research.gs.com>.

Disclosure information is also available at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html> or from Research Compliance, 200 West Street, New York, NY 10282.
