2025 Earnings Review: Decent results, focus will be on NIMs and dividend delivery

OCBC posted 2Q25 net profit of S$1,816mn, -7% yoy/ -4% qoq, inline with GSe (see 2Q25 First Take - Beat on most lines but interim dividend lowered to 0.41 cents). Key focus at the analyst briefing was (1) NIM recovery from its exit NIM of 1.88% given more FED cuts to come, with OCBC noting that they see repricing of deposit cost a lag which will help. Additionally, for NII they see continued volume growth, to aid the delivery of a mid-single digit decline in NII. (2) Dividends was the other focus where OCBC notes that for interim they usually stick to a strict 50% payout but noted in the past, 2H payouts were higher with total DPO ratio reaching 53% for the year post consideration on the environment and outlook. We remain on the more optimistic end that there could be some consideration for flat DPS given its solid capital levels. We forecast flattish DPS for the FY at S$1.00 (S$0.41 interim, S$0.43 Final and S$0.16 special) which will see full year payout ratio rise to 66%.

Overall, we view it as a decent set of results with decent performance across operation lines despite pressure in margin. We expect the diversified revenue sources, active hedging strategy, and cautious risk management to enable OCBC to better navigate the current environment with lower rate and high uncertainty. We remain Buy on OCBC. Post results, we revise up our 2025E-27E net income estimates by 1.6%/1.9%/0.8% to S$6,823mn /S$7,059mn /S$7,498mn, as we bake in higher loan growth, and lower credit cost for 2025. Our 12-m 2-stage DDM-based target price is updated to S$20.0 from S$19.6 previously.

Other key highlights:

- Revised down 2025 NIM guidance at 1.90%-1.95%. 2Q25 NIM was down 12bps qoq to 1.92% with exit NIM of 1.88%. The decline is due to sharp collapse of SORA and HIBOR, as 50% of OCBC's portfolio is in SG$ and HK$, and approximately 80% of SG$ and nearly all of the HK$ book is priced on a floating basis. With that said, OCBC expects 2H25 NIM to improve from exit NIM, reaching higher end of guidance supported by on-going deposit repricing. We forecast NIM of 1.91 % for 2025.

- Targets mid-single digit decline in NII. OCBC expects to partly offset the NIM decline through volume growth. OCBC delivered +3%qoq/ +9% yoy loan growth in 2Q25 on a constant currency basis, driven by mortgages and corporate loans, mainly in infrastructure, data centers, and transportation. The bank notes the loan demand is less impacted by the US tariffs as it is focused on domestic demand, and maintains loan growth guidance unchanged at mid single digits. Furthermore, the bank will also continue to leverage the chance to take on more deposits and allocate funds into investment securities, which would be accretive to NII though dilutive to NIM. We forecast loan growth of 3.6% for the year, and NII decline of -6.7% yoy.
- Robust momentum in non-NII to support income. OCBC notes that its diversified revenue stream could help to support profitability in the low rate environment. Regarding the wealth business, the bank received S$4bn net new money inflow in 2Q25, bringing AUM to a record high of S$310bn and the bank noted investment asset contribution to AUM continuing to increase to 60%. On Insurance, OCBC GEH to contribute more to OCBC profit with higher shareholding of 93.7%. Furthermore, the bank expects to closely work with GEH to leverage synergy and improve profitability. We forecast fee income growth of 12% for 2025.
- Asset quality remains resilient. Regards the HK CRE exposure, OCBC has reduced the exposure to more vulnerable customers, and has provided sufficient provisions on a conservative basis. The bank will continue to closely monitor this segment. The higher NPAs in consumer segments this quarter was mainly attributable in private bank loans. The bank views this as being within its risk appetite and the downgrade is on a prudent basis while the loan is fully secured. The bank said it is confident that it would write-back later. Credit cost guidance is unchanged at 20-25bps for 2025, and we forecast 2025 credit cost of 23bps.

Key risks include: (-) Sudden or sharper-than-expected FED cut cycle; (-) Changes in strategy to return capital; and (-) Unexpected dilutive M&A activity. Remain Buy.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company neither has a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
