Standard Chartered Bank | Europe

Live at EFC 2026

We hosted Pete Burrill, Standard Chartered's Interim Group CFO, at Morgan Stanley's 22nd European Financials Conference.

Tone: #constructive

The start of 2026 has been encouraging, with 1Q trends continuing the strength seen last year. Strong start to year for wealth has continued and momentum in net new money (NNM) flows remains intact. In markets, good growth in flow business. Episodic has rebounded from a soft 4Q driven by market volatility, but YoY comps are tough vs. a strong 1Q25. Management re-emphasised FY26 guidance for NII and costs to remain broadly flat YoY. Looking beyond 2026, management is comfortable with through-the-cycle credit costs of 30–35bps, even in a more volatile world. In CIB, the strategy remains centred on distribution-led businesses and large international corporates. In WRB, the focus continues to shift toward affluent and wealth management while reducing exposure to unsecured consumer lending. All this supports confidence in long-term credit quality.

Recent geopolitical events have had no direct impact on staff or operations. From a credit perspective, the focus remains on core CIB markets in the UAE, Qatar and Saudi Arabia, where exposures are 80% investment grade and to large MNC corporates, financial institutions and government-related entities. These portfolios are viewed as low risk. Within WRB, credit exposure is mainly UAE mortgages with low loan-to-value ratios (sub 50%); the bank exited the SME business in the Middle East a few years ago. Management is cautious, but comfortable with first-order impacts. Potential second-order effects depend on the duration of geopolitical uncertainty, but current guidance is maintained.

On revenues, WRB wealth performance has been exceptional, 10yr CAGR of 10% with acceleration in 2025. Despite a competitive landscape, the bank remains confident in its ability to compete as one of the largest wealth managers in Asia, supported by strong NNM flows, diversified product offerings, and a robust open-architecture platform. Structural tailwinds in Asia, coupled with continued investment in premium brand, relationship managers and technology, underpin confidence in the sustainability of this growth. In CIB, Standard Chartered's strength is its diversified network. Trade and markets continue to show strong momentum, supported by trade flows and working capital movements, while episodic businesses are expected to remain range-bound but stable.

Cost discipline remains a key focus, positive jaws are embedded in the mindset. Productivity improvements are central to the strategy. Technology continues to act as an important enabler, including early-stage adoption of AI to raise productivity, particularly within wealth management.

Capital – investing in business growth is still the top priority. Sustainable dividends remain important, and management noted payout ratios were below peers', but are now at 30%. Buybacks remain popular with investors and are an important tool.

STOCK RATINGS

Morgan Stanley uses a relative rating system using terms such as Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated or Underweight (see definitions below). Morgan Stanley does not assign ratings of Buy, Hold or Sell to the stocks we cover. Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight are not the equivalent of buy, hold and sell. Investors should carefully read the definitions of all ratings used in Morgan Stanley Research. In addition, since Morgan Stanley Research contains more complete information concerning the analyst's views, investors should carefully read Morgan Stanley Research, in its entirety, and not infer the contents from the rating alone. In any case, ratings (or research) should not be used or relied upon as investment advice. An investor's decision to buy or sell a stock should depend on individual circumstances (such as the investor's existing holdings) and other considerations.

Global Stock Ratings Distribution

(as of February 28, 2026)

The Stock Ratings described below apply to Morgan Stanley's Fundamental Equity Research and do not apply to Debt Research produced by the Firm.

For disclosure purposes only (in accordance with FINRA requirements), we include the category headings of Buy, Hold, and Sell alongside our ratings of Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight. Morgan Stanley does not assign ratings of Buy, Hold or Sell to the stocks we cover. Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight are not the equivalent of buy, hold, and sell but represent recommended relative weightings (see definitions below). To satisfy regulatory requirements, we correspond Overweight, our most positive stock rating, with a buy recommendation; we correspond Equal-weight and Not-Rated to hold and Underweight to sell recommendations, respectively.

Stock Rating Category	Coverage Universe		Investment Banking Clients (IBC)			Other Material Investment Services Clients (MISC)
	Count	% of Total	Count	% of Total IBC	% of Rating Category	Count	% of Total Other MISC
Overweight/Buy	1528	41%	444	49%	29%	690	42%
Equal-weight/Hold	1590	43%	374	41%	24%	725	44%
Not-Rated/Hold	4	0%	1	0%	25%	1	0%
Underweight/Sell	588	16%	87	10%	15%	220	13%
Total	3,710		906			1636

Data include common stock and ADRs currently assigned ratings. Investment Banking Clients are companies from whom Morgan Stanley received investment banking compensation in the last 12 months. Due to rounding off of decimals, the percentages provided in the "% of total" column may not add up to exactly 100 percent.

Analyst Stock Ratings

Overweight (O). The stock's total return is expected to exceed the average total return of the analyst's industry (or industry team's) coverage universe, on a risk-adjusted basis, over the next 12-18 months.

Equal-weight (E). The stock's total return is expected to be in line with the average total return of the analyst's industry (or industry team's) coverage universe, on a risk-adjusted basis, over the next 12-18 months.

Not-Rated (NR). Currently the analyst does not have adequate conviction about the stock's total return relative to the average total return of the analyst's industry (or industry team's) coverage universe, on a risk-adjusted basis, over the next 12-18 months.

Underweight (U). The stock's total return is expected to be below the average total return of the analyst's industry (or industry team's) coverage universe, on a risk-adjusted basis, over the next 12-18 months.

Unless otherwise specified, the time frame for price targets included in Morgan Stanley Research is 12 to 18 months.
