1Q was very good

Earnings Review

Key takeaways

- Very good numbers from Standard Chartered this morning. PBT at $2.45bn a big beat to consensus which should be taken well.
- The rebound in Markets income from 4Q lows perhaps expected but Wealth revenue growth an additional pillar of strength in 1Q
- USD 190m in precautionary provisions for the ME - although otherwise asset quality notably stable.

Strong Markets and Wealth income

We thought this was a strong report from Standard Chartered this morning. PBT was $2.45bn, a significant (+17%) beat to consensus. The beat reflected much better revenues of $5.9bn, +20% qoq. Whilst we had been expecting a recovery in Markets income, Wealth is also performing strongly. Markets nearly doubled from the 4Q lows and mostly reflected flow income, rather than positioning, a contrast with 1Q25, albeit the revenue outcome was broadly the same at $1.2bn, helped by EM Rates and FX. Wealth was up a third on the prior year, with revenues of $1bn, with bancassurance doubling to $265m. We note reported net new money in the Wealth business of $18bn which is better than e.g. DB reported yesterday. No change to guidance (an update is expected in May). We think these numbers should be taken very well this morning.

Precautionary provisions

Asset quality aggregates are unchanged – NPLs are flat at $5.8bn still. However, we note the increased impairment line up at $296m, the delta of which largely reflects precautionary provisions of $190m this quarter, to reflect the current disquiet in the Middle East. Standard Chartered is one of the few banks with ME exposure but its total assets in the UAE are de minimis, at $22bn or 2% of the total. Note the drop in the CET1 ratio to 13.4%, as the buyback is fully reflected and RWA rise as a result of more lending/mix effect and higher VAR. Standards reports an MREL issuance plan of around $9bn this year of which YTD they have issued $6.2bn comprising $5.6bn Holdco senior and $0.6bn of AT1. This leaves around $3bn to do with the potential for prefunding.

BofA Securities does and seeks to do business with issuers covered in its research reports. Valuation & risk

StanChart (STANLN)

High dependence on Markets income, in spite of positioning in some of the world's highest growth regions make us comparatively less enthusiastic on StanChart, together with its above-average exposure to tariff-hit Asian countries. We think bonds should trade a bit wider when compared to UK peers. We are UW the $5.005% '30 sr holdco. The $4.644% is by no means expensive whereas the subs can seem tight to senior holdcos, in our view. The $7.014% legacy T1s lack a Capital Disqualification Event clause which could allow early redemption but the bank considers they are the equivalent of Tier 2 for life, which is why it did not take the opportunity of low cash prices in 2023 to buy back these securities. Opco CDS levels look fair.

We see downside risks from the uncertainty emanating from volatile markets income dependency, and exposures to emerging markets under pressure from volatile USD. China CRE, HK asset quality not out of the woods albeit that these seem in the rear view mirror now. Risk to the upside stems from less near term pressure than expected on the bank's core earnings.

BofA Global Research uses the following rating system with respect to Credit Default Swaps (CDS):

Buy Protection: Buy CDS, therefore going short credit risk.

Neutral: No purchase or sale of CDS is recommended.

Sell Protection: Sell CDS, therefore going long credit risk.
