Business head meetings takeaways – realizing full potential of regional franchise

Maintain Rating: BUY | PO: 41.00 SGD | Price: 34.84 SGD

Focus on renewed growth drivers beyond tough macro

We hosted UOB management (wholesale / retail banking heads, CFO, CRO) for a strategy discussion with investors. We share some key takeaways in this note. Overall, we found the tone quite balanced and constructive – acknowledging the tough macro, but firmly focused on the controllables and internal factors to improve the growth/ROE profile.

Sharpen regional focus / realize potential of integrated platform – mgmt. remains bullish on ASEAN's long-term growth fundamentals with Singapore as its core market, driven by the youthful population (53% of ASEAN population aged below 35) and high banking penetration growth potential. Post-Citi acquisition, UOB now has access to over 8 million customers across the region. The key now is to leverage on this enlarged client base and UOB's platform to cross-sell products and drive top-line growth.

Reinforce fee income growth – mgmt. acknowledged the macro environment remains uncertain amid the ongoing tariff escalation and regional pockets of slowdown. UOB aims to offset these macro pressures (growth slowdown, competition for quality loans/assets) by focusing on structural growth around key fee drivers – wealth and cross-border trade solutions. Through growing these high ROE segments, UOB hopes to achieve its 12-13% medium-term ROE targets.

Long-term growth perspective – while UOB is focused on increasing wallet share and cross-selling products through its enlarged customer base, overall AQ and balance sheet strength are also seen as key drivers to bring UOB closer to its 12-13% ROE target.

Asset quality – CRE risks bottoming out - There are some early signs of recovery but believes it will be closer to a U-shaped recovery rather than a V-shaped one. Mgmt. reiterated its holistic approach towards CRE NPLs – considering not just LTVs but also the cash flow profile of the assets. UOB intends to increase its GP buffer (towards 0.9% of total loans) and re-calibrate its Greater China / real estate exposures.

Company Sector

Banks-Multinational/Universal

Company Description

UOB has a well established SME and mass affluent consumer banking platform in Singapore. It is controlled by the Wee family. UOB has a diversified regional footprint across Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand and China. The UOB Group has a network of more than 500 offices in 19 countries and territories in Asia Pacific, Western Europe and North America.

Investment Rationale

We rate UOB Buy. As we enter the rate cut cycle, UOB's lower NIM sensitivity, scope for higher contribution from ASEAN businesses, better wealth management yields and operating efficiency seem under-appreciated by the market. We expect positive surprises on two fronts - a rebound in ASEAN contribution and a more vibrant regional wholesale business. Hence we expect DBS's valuation premium over UOB to narrow.

Wholesale banking and markets

Growth

- Leaning on three growth pillars – 1) Supply chain: to leverage on regional trade flows; 2) Cash management: to continue optimizing funding costs through attracting transactional CASA; 3) Digital economy: to leverage on secular growth in data centers, renewables projects etc.
- Loan pipeline intact – despite the bulk of customers' capex plans put on hold as uncertainty from trade tariffs remain, management is still expecting some drawdowns on loan facilities to materialize in 2H25, with notable contribution from the digital economy sector.
- UOB's regional expertise gives 'right to win' - As a result of past investments into its regional networks and domain expertise, UOB remains well placed to originate and underwrite loans as companies rewire their supply chains in the region, particularly in growth areas such as the digital economy / ESG sectors.
- Well positioned to capture China-ASEAN flows – management noted more desire from Chinese manufacturing firms to set up supply chains in the region / capture ASEAN market share amid trade tensions with the U.S., albeit subject to government / regulatory support. UOB remains well positioned to capture trade flows and shifts in supply chain with regional platform already built and ready to scale.

Margins / profitability

- Focus on high-return segments to boost earnings profile – such as trade solutions, cross border transactions / solutions. This, coupled with sustaining healthy CASA balances through the bank's transaction banking offerings, will help boost profitability metrics in the medium-term.

Asset quality – focus remains on CRE

- CRE exposure - there are some early signs of recovery but believes it will be closer to a U-shaped recovery rather than a V-shaped one. Mgmt. reiterated its holistic approach towards CRE NPLs – considering not just LTVs but also the cash flow profile of the assets. While we have seen massive markdowns in LTVs of properties this cycle, mgmt. believes these are mostly driven by fire sales, and is not representative of the entire sector / in line with the intrinsic value of these properties, some of which still producing enough cash flow to cover interest payments. As such, UOB does not seem to be in any rush to liquidate collaterals and are waiting for valuations to rebound to boost recovery efforts.

Key medium to long-term strategy

- Re-calibrate Greater China loan exposure, especially real estate – UOB sees a permanent structural change to the real estate sector in Greater China.
- Focus on regional connectivity (intra-ASEAN + China-ASEAN) – cross border transaction and treasury solutions to provide UOB with a higher RoRWA profile.

Retail banking

Growth

- Capitalize on broad 8.4 mn customer base; focus on cross-selling – UOB now has over 8 million customers in ASEAN, driven by both organic and inorganic (Citi) growth. The average customer that uses UOB as their ‘main bank’ (2 or more products) bring in ~3x more revenue than one that only holds 1 UOB product. The average customer now only holds around 1.6 products – UOB intends to focus on this low hanging fruit and maximize cross-selling efforts.
- Providing a differentiated positioning and experience – with the consumer banking space in Singapore and around ASEAN already so crowded and competitive with little product differentiation across banks, UOB’s strategy of differentiating customer experience / services has worked well. After good traction in card signups after partnering with Taylor Swift and Ed Sheeran to offer cardholders pre-sale access for their concerts, UOB plans to build on this momentum, and continues to work with other artistes.
- CASA remains sticky – to drive growth in structural low-cost funding – CASA ratio now at record highs of 56%. Despite past deposit rate cuts, UOB has noted that deposit balances remain intact with little outflow due to inertia – most customers have already set up long-term payment plans (GIRO etc.) and salary crediting to maximize interest earned and are unlikely to switch out.

Wealth

- Further rollout of retail investment platform across ASEAN – self-serve platform on UOB’s TMRW app continues to see good traction among consumers, driven by increased accessibility and ease of investing. However, ticket size remains much smaller vs. RM-led accounts.
- July momentum improved substantially vs. 2Q – wealth fees momentum slowed in 2Q as clients adopted a risk-off approach, rotating out of equities / structured products and into fixed income / money market funds. Since then, UOB has seen an improvement in mood and risk appetite, and correspondingly an improvement in wealth fees.
- Invested portion of AUM remains low at 40% – upward trend intact over medium-term, but UOB maintains its ‘Right By You’ motto – a risk-first philosophy focusing less on pushing highly profitable but risky products onto clients but more of long-term capital preservation / conservative approach to wealth management.

Cost outlook

- Tech spending will continue – with top-line growth slowing, banks have been focusing on cost discipline to maintain profitability. However, the recent uptick in scams and money laundering scandals have led to an increased need for compliance – driving opex higher. Tech costs remain elevated too – both to replace outdated systems and for further investments into Gen AI etc. This leaves personnel costs as the only major lever for UOB to pull apart from some other discretionary spending.

Key medium to long-term strategy

- PB product suite ‘complete’, focus turns to growth – UOB mgmt. reiterated confidence in its suite of wealth solutions offered, and that its product capability is not a constraint to growing WM revenues. While AUM growth has lagged peers, mgmt. intends to focus on utilizing its vast ASEAN network post-Citi integration to drive the next stage of growth.

Price objective basis & risk

United Overseas Bank (UOVEF / UOVEY)

Our PO of S$41.00 (US$63.81) is derived using a Gordon growth model, which assumes a sustainable ROE of 12.5%, cost of equity of 9.3%, and a long-term growth rate of 2.0%. This implies a warranted PBV of 1.4x.

Downside risks: protracted global economic slowdown, significant asset quality deterioration and high employee/customer attrition from announced acquisition of Citi's consumer banking operations in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia and Vietnam. Upside risks: stronger than expected macro recovery and better than expected pick-up in rate cycle.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).
